Los Angeles county bees are in exceptionally good condition this season, and bee diseases have declined 2¼ per cent over last season, according to the report of H. Perkins in charge of county apiary inspection. He states that the honey crop never looked more promising.

Employes of the state department of agriculture are engaged in repairing an international boundary fence between Mexico and California, it is announced. The fence was washed out by recent rains, and must be rebuilt to keep Texas fever tick from infesting cattle ranges of California.

Lieutenant Governor Buron Fitts has announced his intention to be present in Visalia in May to attend the annual state convention of the California Association of Horticultural Commissioners. The convention will be held in this city May 26, and the ensuing two days the visitors will go to Giant Forest.

James A. Hollenbeak, an extensive farmer whose 1,200 acres of Pitt river bottom land is partly in Lassen county and partly in Shasta county, is on a trip to Wisconsin and other dairy districts in the east. He plans to purchase a carload of dairy cows to ship across the continent to his farm. Hollenbeak is going into the dairy business on a large scale.

Poultrymen from the Hanford district are discussing plans for organizing a co-operative association for King county, since the Poultry Producers of Central California have decided not to extend their operations below Merced county. The poultry raisers are receiving the co-operation of the farm bureau and the Kings county Chamber of Commerce.

Packing houses of Fullerton eclipsed all estimates for the past week and 137 cars of Valencias rolled out to the citrus-market. Packers had forecast 100 cars as the week's total. Shipping has not yet reached its peak and the Orange County Citrus Exchange and the Independent operators declared today that shipping next week will exceed the output for the past six days.

The directors of the Tulare County Farm Bureau have offered a reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of any person stealing live stock in the county. A number of thefts of this sort have been reported of late. Police officials recently caught some of the members of a gang which is said to have been stealing pure-bred dairy animals from the Tulare and Kings county farms at night and "bootlegging" them in Los Angeles.

Although the market prices will be affected by the abundance of grass feed resulting from heavy rainfall throughout the Spring months, brokers competent to judge estimate the value of Kern County's alfalfa harvest at $500,000 this year and predict a peak price of $13.75 a ton until the summer months arrive, and a general average price of $12.50 for the entire season. Southern California has developed a market for Kern hay that insures farmers fair profits, representatives of the buyers declare. The bulk of shipments probably will be delayed this year, due to unusual weather conditions and the difficulty in curing the alfalfa. Nevertheless, old-time ranchers are hopeful for a return to prices reminiscent of pre-war times, when they frequently were paid $25 a ton, stacked, in the field.

The planting of 100 acres on the Harp and Beckett ranch, south of Corcoran, is the first experiment on a large scale in growing cantaloupes in Kings county. The plants are already up and with favorable conditions a large yield is promised.

The Calipatria Growers, Inc., have joined with the Florida Vegetable Growers in asking for protection from vegetable imports from Mexico. American growers, they contend, cannot compete with Mexicans when it comes to cheap production.

The policy of fruit dealers to sacrifice apples of poor quality has brought down storage holdings in San Francisco ice houses to a total of 59,846 boxes as against 82,287 boxes at this time in 1926, according to Friday's figures. At the same time the government issued a report showing that the stored supply in the whole state, April 15, aggregated 539,226 boxes as against 724,052 boxes at the beginning of the month. Less than 200,000 boxes left the ice houses during the first half of April.

Articles of incorporation of the Pacific Water Company, a $3,000,000 San Francisco corporation, were filed last week with Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state. The Citrus Realty Company, a $1,000,000 Los Angeles concern, also filed its papers with Jordan.

The first of the location surveys for the Stockton deep water channel and harbor project are to begin within the next week. Major J. A. Dorst, army engineer from the office of District Engineer C. S. Ridley, San Francisco, arrived to take acitve charge of the work. Location surveys, said Major Dorst, should be completed by October 1. Two field crews of eight men each will be placed on the work.

The city trustees of Manteca held a special meeting this week to discuss the advisibility of purchasing the Manteca water works, an offer having been made to the city through Attorney Guard Darrah at a price of $50,000. Claude Smiley, 21, a ranch laborer, sustained a narrow escape from death last week when a mowing machine blade sliced off a portion of his scalp as he lay asleep in the weeds near the Davis agricultural college farm. W. P. Hodgeson of Davis was driving a tractor to which was hitched the mower and did not see the prostrate man until after the blade struck him. The injured man was rushed to the emergency hospital at Sacramento where he was treated.

Investigating recent mysterious nocturnal noises in the garret of his hotel, C. W. Miller, Hanford hotelman, discovered that they proceeded from a nest of young owls, white, fuzzy and large eyed, lately hatched. The mother owl was away when the nestlings were captured, put in a box with a coarse screen in front, and placed near the nest. The wise old owl, mindful of her duty to provide for her young, proceeded to forage for food and the first night after the birds were in captivity the parent owls laid ten squirrels in front of the cage, the second and third nights twenty each, and on the fourth night twelve squirrels were brought in through the skylight and laid before the box containing the three young owls. Miller supplied the young birds with their regular rations and they are already beginning to feather. He believes that the mother has supplied evidence that the owl, of this variety, is a friend of the farmer in the removing of squirrels and will later turn the young ones loose to catch squirrels for themselves.

Giles S. Caldwell of Oakland, has been officially recognized as the outstanding hero of 1926. Before the assembled student body of the University of California, he was awarded the Red Cross medal that once each year goes to the man performing the most singular feat in behalf of mankind. According to the citation, Caldwell and a companion, Frank Perry, were at Stinson Beach on March 27, 1926. They heard screams for help from two girls who had ventured too far into the surf. Plunging into the water, the two swam out to the scene. Caldwell fought his way to the shore through a treacherous surf with one of the girls, at the same time successfully directing Perry in bringing in the other. The girls were Jennie and Dorothy Walker of San Francisco. Dorothy was revived through first aid methods by Caldwell. He was unable to restore life to Jennie.

IN THE GARDEN OF THE SHAH

Operetta Given By High School Students

Persian Operetta to be Presented "May 6"

Campbell Union High is presenting a very effective Operetta this year—"In the Garden of the Shah."

The costumes which are of the pastel shades add greatly to the beauty of the scene.

The stage scenery under the capable management of Miss K. Johnson and Mr. Wilbur Whitney is very effective, depicting a persian garden and harem with a town in the distance.

A fountain which has been planned by Mr. Whitney is one of the main features of the scenery. This fountain is to be an "Honest to Goodness" fountain and works like one!

A spot light with many different colored slides is to be flashed on the scene.

Don't forget the date!

Friday night May 6, in the Campbell Grammar School Auditorium. Tickets can be procured from any student in the school.—Annette Merrill.

Zohdah	Daughter of Shah . . .	Ruth Matteson
Lohlah	Her chum	Annette Merrill
Nowabah	Her old nurse	Opal Overshiner
Perunah	The Shah	Stephen Merrill
Somecraba	The Sheik	George Mattos
Ted Harding, Billy Cummings	American Mining Engineers . . .	Richard Snyder, Eugene Tainter

All three acts take place in the garden of Peruna, the Shah, in Persia.

The Misses Joan and Jeanne Halamicek will entertain the audience at the close of the second act.

Ted Harding and Billy Cummings, American mining engineers, accompanied by their colored servant, Sam, come to Persia to work the Shah's gold mine.

Ted falls in love with Zohdah, the Shah's daughter, and Billy with Lohlah, Zohdah's friend, while Nowabah, Zohdah's old nurse, pursues Sam, thinking him her affinity in some other incarnation.

The Shah wishes Zohdah to marry Somecraba, an Arab Sheik, but discovers in time that the Sheik has been compelled to abdicate his throne. The Shah puts the Americans in prison to keep them from making love, but releases them as he needs them to operate his gold mine.

From that point the action proceeds as the Americans wish.

P. T. A. Election Tuesday

The election of officers for High School P. T. A. is the main feature of the regular monthly business meeting which will be held at the D. H. Cramer residence, Tuesday afternoon May 10th at 2:30. A full attendance of members is solicited. Plans will be perfected for the Minstrel Show, also the Picnic which the year's program calls for.

The object of the organization this year has been—to bring the home and school into closer relationship and at the same time present a program to arouse members to the importance of studying or taking action on subjects that deserve our serious consideration. How many of the parents have availed themselves of these opportunities? How many have found no time for P. T. A., but rather, have stayed away making critical comment on what "they" are doing or not doing? Those who have done the latter are largely to blame for any deficiencies of the organization.

"A chain is no stronger than its weakest link." Have you weakened the Chain? Let each of the members ask himself this question. What kind of a Club would this club be—if every member were just like me? Then decide to be at the next meeting—Tuesday afternon at 2:30 at the residence of Prof. H. Cramer.

Mrs. F. A. Turner of Sacramento was the house guest of her sister Mrs. Hattie Baugh part of last week. Mrs. Turner is president of the War Mothers Association and had been on an inspection trip to the south stopping off on her way home.

A delightfully pleasing concert was given music lovers of Campbell Tuesday evening when in observance of music week the newer pupils of Emily Pannell Gard gave a recital at Community hall. WOMANS GLUB OFFICERS RETAINED

The meeting of the Country Woman's Club Monday was devoted exclusively to business, the forepart of the afternoon to the regular session, followed by the annual meeting.

No matters of special importance were discussed but Mrs. E. R. Kennedy gave a financial report which shows the real standing of the club according to its budgeting system. That shows the finances in excellent condition with the debt on the building reduced to $500.

At the annual meeting the roll call showed forty-five members in good standing with a few others added during the afternoon.

Reports of the secretary, treasurer and President were presented. The club has experienced a very pleasant year with excellent programs, pleasant social occasions and the library, the building and grounds well maintained.

The election of directors resulted in retaining all of the present board. Mrs. L. J. Carboni, Miss Jessie Lewis, Mrs. L. S. Miller, Mrs. E. J. Price, Mrs. M. E. Purmort.

At a subsequent meeting the directors elected the same officers as have served so efficiently this year Mrs. Carboni, president, Mrs. Price, vice-president; Mrs. Purmort, secretary; Miss Lewis, treasurer; and Mrs. Miller, director at large.

STUDENTS SING FOR KIWANIS

Canada got another bit of free publicity at Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday when "Chief" Carl Field, chairman told of the parks and delight sights in western Canada that may be visited by travelers from California.

Campbell's booth at the Fiesta came in for some complimentary remarks. The display shows some of our canned products about 20,000,000 cans of fruit having been put up by our three canneries last season.

Members of the cast of the high school operetta "In the Garden of the Shah" gave several musical numbers as entertainment. The singers were Dick Lynden, Annette Merrill, Eugene Tainter, Jack Murdock and Opal Obershiner, accompanied by Prof. Jos Halamicek at the piano.

Margaret Tutt and Virginia Lenox assisted at the tables.

E. Russ Kennedy is chairman next week and Mr. Kolb of the Hercules Powder Co. will give a lecture illustrated by slides on "Powder and its uses."

In the attendnace contest group two gets a free feed with the groups one and three paying the fiddler.

House Party

This year the Grammar School Teachers had their annual house party at Capitola. They went over Friday afternoon after school first to Santa Cruz to enjoy a good time in the Plunge and from there to the beach at Capitola where a picnic lunch with hot coffee was much enjoyed. They stayed in the Christopher and Hedegard cottages fronting the beach. The town was very quiet and Campbell had it to themselves. It was a "do as you please party and everybody suited herself or himself i nthe way of amusement, although almost every one went into the surf. Mr. Abbott and Mr. Singleton went fishing and came home with the limit. Teachers came and went in detachments, some going over Friday and returning Saturday while others came over Saturday and stayed until Sunday. It was a rest and change and a good time for all who were able to go.

JOHN F. DUNCAN CALLED BY DEATH

Although not unexpected the word of John Duncan's death came as a blow to the solicitous friends who have been hourly asking of his condition for the past two weeks. He quietly passed away at his home Monday afternoon.

The funeral services were held from the Congregational church Thursday afternoon interment at Los Gatos cemetery under the auspices of the Masons with Knight Templar escort.

John Fellows Duncan was born at Schoolcraft, Mich., being 61 years and four months old at his death. He came to Campbell about 35 years ago and was the first cashier of Campbell's first bank. Through his big heartedness and business ability he made the bank a thriving institution and when this was merged with the Garden City Bank of San Jose became vice-president and manager of that office. He has always lived at Campbell and his circle of friendships and influence was only limited by his acquaintance.

He was an active officer of the Congregational Church for many years and a prominent Mason of Campbell and San Jose lodges.

Campbell and the county mourns the loss of one of its finest characters but his remarkable influence has made itself felt in this community to an immeasurable degree. He is survived by his devoted wife, Elizabeth Duncan and children, Mrs. J. Easton Carter of Palo Alto, Mrs. Edwin Parker of Crockett, Mrs. Gilbert Newcomb of Campbell, Mrs. Frank Mendel of Palo Alto, John P. Duncan of Campbell and brother Herbert Duncan of Pueblo, Colo.

He was a member of the high school board from the forming of the district and was clerk until recent years when other business necessitated his resignation.

Out of the feeling of profound respect for their fellow-townsman all business houses were closed during the hours of the funeral service.

W. S. Dodds Buys Theatre

M. and Mrs. S. W. Dodds of Chowchilla have recently come to Campbell to make their home because of the pleasing appearance of the town and the congenial people they met on their arrival. They have rented the R. J. Shannon house on east Campbell Avenue.

Since arriving Mr. Dodds has purchased the movie business and interest in the Campbell theater of Andrew Saso who has been quite ill for several months. Mr. Dodds believes in this community as a good place to locate and do business and has proved his faith. He promises a good line of plays and will do all possible to deserve a liberal patronage of this district.

A MOTHER'S DAY RIME

When you came from far away, listen now to what I say,
Bring a gift—some little present—just for mother;
She'll appreciate your thought, matters not how much you've brought Along for dad and sister and for baby brother.

When you have a little fun, after daily tasks are done,
Plan some joy—some little pleasure—all for mother;
If you only knew the truth, she's still living in her youth,
There are always little sparks that age can't smother.

When some trouble comes along, and the world seems gone dead wrong,
Have some faith—some little trust—in your dear mother;
You'll find roses at your feet, life is never quite so sweet,
If you tell HER first, before you tell some other.

When you've got some love to spare, and you give away a share,
Give a little—just a little—all for mother;
You'll get true love in return, more than you can ever earn,
From your mother,—and you'll never have another, MOTHER.

WHAT IS A MERCHANT?

A merchant is a man who operates more than a store: he maintains an institution.

The merchant is the man who brings for local selection the products of the world; and without the local store in some form you would not be able to conveniently buy the hundred and one things that civilization regards as necessities, nor the coveted things that become the realizations of the more or less well-to-do.

The merchant is the man who carries on credit those who must have time, and those who want time as a matter of their own paying convenience; and in either case the merchant pays you interest on his own money.

The merchant is the man who not only must make service and variety of merchandise his inside rules of success, but who must reach out and find his customers through the recognized avenues of good business practice; he must find you if his business is to reach above the mere transient trade.

The merchant is the man who pays taxes to maintain local government and law and order; who contributes to worthy charities and civic interests, generally without whimper or complaint; you can always find him approachable; and in the process he exists and lets live.

The merchant is the man whom the home newspaper boosts without ceasing, and guards with jealous eye all encroachments against local prosperity; this without condition of advertising patronage: for the local newspaper conforms as a matter of course to the recognized principles and protection to home industry as the foundation of sectional and even national advancement.

The merchant is the man who must resolve questions of quality, service, price and error against himself; for through hundreds of years of merchandising the public insists upon the proposition that the customer is always right.

The merchant is the man who must meet exacting competition and still bring to himself a fair profit with which to pay his overhead expenses, support his family, and carry out his other duties as a good citizen; and to deny him these things is to render him unfit to give the service that you demand.

The merchants is an established institution; he is no "middle-man" in the true sense of the word; for he stands directly at the consuming end, which is closest to the people; he is your friend.

After investigating the marketing plan of the Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers, Inc., a group of Napa county growers have organized the Napa Growers' Association and will avail themselves of the nation-wide shipping and marketing facilities of the parent organization. The Napa concern will be incorporated, and it is expected will be well under way in the near future. The organization begun at a meeting recently at which H. L. Hart, western division manager of the Federated Growers, was present. The concern will engage in the packing of all kinds of green fruit and vegetables.

The first two ripe cantaloupes of the season were brought to Brawley early in April. The melons were well netted and of fine appearance. However, the season will not open for some time yet. The growers say that it will be later than it was last year. So far, no mildew on the vines has been reported.

According to G. W. Armstrong, field representative for the Valley Cotton Gin Company, 2,500 acres in Stanislaus county are signed up for the 1927 cotton crop. Not so many small tracts are being planted this year, but the acreage in larger tracts is in advance of last year, as 1,800 acres have already been seeded and some of the early planting is up. The local gin shipped out a car load of baled cotton last week to the Los Angeles market.

The date industry at Indio seems to have taken another step forward, with the first foreign export shipment of offshoots. Six offshoots each of the Hayany, Saidy, Zaheedy and Halawi varieties were sent to Washington, D. C., April 9, and thence will be dispatched to Algeria. It would seem to be a case of carry coal to Newcastle, but these varieties, of Egyptian and Persian origin, are practically new to Algeria, home of so many fine dates.

The Silver Dollar

The monetary systsm of the United States was established by Congress on April 2, 1792. Six months later the first coins, known as half-dimes, were struck at the Philadelphia mint. Other gold and silver coins followed, but it was not until 1794 that the silver dollar made its appear- Up to 1860 only four million had peen minted.

A silver dollar will open a savings account in the American Trust Company and serve as the basis for a future competence. Four per cent interest, compounded semi-annually is earned on the accumulated savings.

The Lone Scouts are unusually active ta present and they are certain to grow. There are, perhaps, thirty-five Lone Scouts in and around Campbell. Henry Stickter of Cupertino is planning to organize a tribe in that community—Willard C. Loughlin.

Astounding figures on the extent to which farm population is decreasing, were disclosed by an official report of the census bureau covering the agricultural census in 1925 and an estimate of the department of agriculture bringing figures to January 1st of this year. Whereas estimates show that the total farm population decreased only approximately 500,000 in the ten years between 1910 and 1920, it has fallen off more than 3,000,000 between 1920 and the close of 1926. Putting it another way, the estimates of the department of agriculture show that each year since 1920 the farm population has decreased as much as the total loss in the entire ten-year period prior to that year.

The scene is in the garden of the Shah and wil make you believe you are in Persia. Mr. Whitney and the farm mechanics classes are putting forth great effort to make this scene effective. The costumes this year are very beautiful and colorful. All this combined with theenchanting music, makes the operetta very delightful. Miss Jenkins and Mr. Halamicek have been working hard with the principals and choruses so that they are well trained.

Kitchen Shower

Miss Helen Baugh who has been the motif of several functions was again the guest of honor Saturday afternoon at a kitchen shower.

Miss Mary Rodeck and Mrs. D. H. Cramer were joint hostesses at a delightful afternoon of bridge concluding with a dainty tea. The parcels were distributed as prizes to each guest and then showered uponthe bride to be.

One of the outstanding features of the decorations were two large baskets of gracefully arranged marguerites and wistaria yellow roses and lavender iris furthered the color scheme which was daintily carried out in the refreshments.

Miss Baugh was the recipient of a variety of useful gifts, each acompanied by an appropriate recipe.

Out of town guests were Mrs. F. A. Turner of Sacramento, Mrs. Lawrence Neville of San Jose, and Mrs. Etta Alison and Mrs. Lucille Alison of Palo Alto.

Operettas Enjoyed

The grammar school operettas were given last Thursday night and they went off without a single hitch.

The "Queen of Hearts" given by the Primary grades took the grown people people back to their Mother Goose Days. The lovely Queen, Eleanor Hedegard, and the stern but handsome King, John Martinovich, looked a truly noble pair. The Knave, Idell Fulton well deserved his spanking but we should have laid it on harder than the king did. The little kindergartners and First graders who were pages delighted every one. One of them carrying the King's robe caused much amusement by using the royal robe as a handkerchief. Altogether it was one of the best we have ever had here.

"Twlight Alley" by the Grammar grades was a fine lesson on civic improvement. Ruth Mourey, as mother of a large and difficult family was remarkably fine. She was the outstanding character of the performance. Geneva DiFiore, her oldest daughter and Ralph Fulton, her boy, were very natural children, the kind that you meet every day. Freda Atkins made a charming little rich girl. Both she and Helen Payne, the little white flower of the slums, did some very good work in their solo parts. The chorus showed good training in both operettas and were thoroughly enjoyed, especially the boys.

GIRLS' PLAY DAY

The Santa Clara High School girls have invited the Campbell High School girls to a play day on Thursady, May 12th. The sports to be played are basket ball, base ball, tennis, and volley ball. We hope for a large number to be present on that date and help Campbell win some honors.

The play days usually begin with a posture parade at nine o'clock in which all the schools represented line up in order and march down the street past the judges who decide which school is the best, but as this is to be an informal play day, it will begin at three o'clock.

We expect to leave Santa Clara for home about seven o'clock after a very enjoyable day—Eva Robinson.

World Beauty-spot

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Holmquist, former residents of Centerville, So. Dak., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Whitman, Sunday. For the past two years Mr. and Mrs. Holmquist have resided in the scenic Berkeley Hills, near El Cerrito, and have considered it the most beautiful part of California. After a drive over Santa Clara Valley Sunday afternoon they were ready to concede that this is the garden spot of the state, in fact Mr. Holmquist remarked that in his travels over California he had never seen anything to compare in beauty with our valley.

The Fiesta management have chosen well the date for this year's carnival. Roses are at their best all over this big flower garden.

At the conclusion of Mr. Brant's talk, the meeting in its usual form continued.

W. C. McCaughey

William C. McCaughey, one of Campbell's aged and highly respected citizens answered taps Tuesday evening after several days of gradually failing strength.

Born at Millersburg, Ohio Jan. 19, 1839, he was maried to Lucretia Finney in October 1870. They came to California in 1891 and have resided here since except for five years spent in Merced County.

He was a Civil War Veteran and member of Ord Post at Los Gatos and a faithful attendant at Church when his health permitted.

The deceased is survived by his loving wife and children W. G. McCaughey, B. L. McCaughey and Mrs. T. A. Robinson all of Campbell. Funeral services were held from the Melivn parlors this morning, interment at Los Gatos cemetery.

Mrs. Barlett Injured

Mrs. Wm Barlett of vaudeville fame was quite painfully hurt in her act Monday evening at the Fiesta show. She was badly bruised on the shoulder and back when in whirling on the ladder she struck the ground. With her nerve yet good she is still doing her turn every day, although quite painful.

"In the Garden of the Shah"

The Campbell Union High School Student Body is presenting the operetta "In the Garden of the Shah." The story takes places in an oriental atmosphere, being located in the Shah's Garden in Persia.

The Shah has a beautiful daughter, Zodah, whom the Arab Shiek wishes to marry. The Shiek is a very conceited, boastful person who thinks he would be favoring her by making her his five-hundredth wife. The Shah has a mine that requires a mining engineer's attention. He sends to America for two engineers. They come, then the Shiek has rivals!

Come to see this musical comedy. It is to be presented this Friday night at eight o'clock in the Campbell Grammar School Auditorium. The Junior Class of the high school has charge of the tickets which may be procured by telephoning the high school office.—Esther Lynden.

In the death of P. J. Martin, former supervisor from this district, Campbell has lost a staunch friend. While in office he was always ready to do what he could for this section.

He was a member of the local grange and a highly respected citizen.

The sympathy of their many friends is extended Mrs. Martin and children Ralph and Anita in their great sorrow.

Funeral services were held from St. Martin's Church Monday morning.

Betty bought a range with an Oven Heat Control

The first cake she made with it was as good as mother's

Betty's mother believed it took years of experience to bake well.

But Betty changed that theory the other day when she baked her first cake in her own home.

For the range she bought has an Oven Heat Control which measures the oven heat just as accurately as Betty measures and mixes the ingredients. In measuring and mixing she eliminates guesswork. Now she eliminates it from baking—because Betty's own Gas Range is equipped with this device that accurately measures the oven heat and keeps the oven at any temperature.

Let us or one of the local dealers explain more fully how to bake your costly ingredients perfectly by means of the Oven Heat Control on the new Gas Range.

Mrs. Cowles Writes from South Africa

Lst Sunday, we had a full Church here and Mr. Cowles preached. In the afternoon he had a song service for the young people. I attended two services and taught two Sunday School classes, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Pastor Kwela was holding Communion at Chief Ndunge's seven miles away. Jack Cele, had a fine service at Chief Thomas' place, three miles away, where the young Chief, (about to come into power) is very friendly, and where the work is opening up like a beautiful flower. This, is Isaac's home and tribe. Then Ntanzi, the Senior theologue, and Isaac, the would-be-evangelist, went to Golwenis seven miles off, and had a rousing time there. On Monday we were all exchanging notes and it was thrilling! Besides their services there were many others in this Umzumbe valley and beyond. Shezi, our other theologue, was at Dweshulas, sixteen miles away. This week he is spending at Nhalwane our farthest out station, forty miles in the wilds.

It has been a wonderful thing for Isaac to be directly associated with our visiting Bible student. He himself has applied of rentrance into Mr. Stick's next class for evangelist. Ntanzi and Isaac made a wonderful team last Sunday. The Golweni church was filled, partly with dressed people, sitting on benches, and partly, with the undressed, sitting on the floor. Ntanzi the educated man, devoted himself to the Christians, and Isaac who himself, was an undressed Kraal boy, only three years ago, walked along among the group of heathen ,pleading with them, in his inimitable way, and teaching them how to pray. In the midst of the service, the heathen became frightened, and began to leave! They had never before seen people praying, and confessing and crying over their sins. They were so awed by all this manifestation of an unseen presence, they started to run! but dear Isaac, bending over them. quieted their fears. So gently he told them of Jesus, and urged them to give themselves to Him, and to pray to God right there. You will recognize Isaac I think as the "Billy Sunday" who was about to come into my kitchen as cook, when I last wrote.

Because of Isaac's preaching, all of our stations are wide awake. At every meeting which Isaac conducts, back-sliders repent, and many, who are dressed in skins and beads, choose Christ. Men and women who have grown to maturity over their beer pots, and who are soaked in superstition, have given it all up, their beer and their stuff and all their ways of darkness, and are now clothed, and have become members of Inquirers classes. Some have joined the Church. As I write now, at 4 p. m. with the thermometer standing at 90 degrees in the shade, and with the sky brazen, Isaac is off, over the hills, at some Kraal telling of Jesus. This is Wednesday and Isaac's afternoon off, and he loves to spend it in this way. He has been with us for a year now, but his zeal seems never to flag. At Hlongwas, Isaac's home and tribe, a little church has been formed and the work there grows and grows, and "men and women are added to the Church daily. Isaa'cs own Father and Mother have become Christians lately and the gray heads of this old Church at Umzumbe say to him "Ah Isaac, not many have such luck. Not many have their parents follow them." Isaac's mother came one day, and sat on a box on my back verendah. Straightway, this woman just out of darkness, began to tell of God's goodness, to tell of all the blessings which had come to their home since she and her husband had become Christians. Was a regular "Magnificant" and Isaac stood by, in his white kitchen suit and chuckled and laughed for joy. His face was radiant. How touched I was, when at the end of all her thanking, she turned to me and said "And do you know, my husband and I have each chosen a bush in which to pray. They are on opposite sides of our hut, and we have chopped a clearing in each, and that is where we go to pray. We pray in our bushes in the morning, but at night when it is dark, we pray together in our hut." Then she burst out laughing and said "And our children say they don't have any quiet any more, with Father and Mother praying." To think of it. These old heathen veterans, changed into veterans of God, talking to Him in Zulu, out there in the bushes under the African sky! How I wish I could be near those bushes to hear their petitions. What were these two saying to God, these old folks, who had been slaughtering to the spirits all their lives? I have named the old man "Abraham." Abraham and his Son, Isaac. And the sweet part of this story is, that this year, Isaac has found his "Rebecca."

Gram. School Notes

Mrs. Sourisseau's room won the prize for attendance last week, having had 100 per cent attendance the whole week.

The first team of boys' baseball played a game with Los Gatos Tuesday afternoon. It was a very close game with a score of 0 to 1 in Los Gatos favor.

Mr. Abbott awarded at Friday's assembly the ribbons won by the boys and girls at the track meet with Willow Glen Guido Manina caried off most of them with Walter Prout and Mario Manina close seconds. There would have been more ribbons for the girls but most of their events were cut out because of a lack of time.
